I believe the Microsoft Settlement is not going to solve any problems or antitrust issues.

I feel stiffer penalties need to be enforced on this company.

Microsoft should not be allowed to make there browser the default browser for the OS.

They abused their position dealing with Netscape and therefore should lose their privilege of forcing manufacturers to except IE as the default browser. I also feel they should compensate ex-Netscape employees for ruining their business model. Microsoft does stand in the way of free market enterprise and actions need to be taken.
